Media Advisory: Assembly Committee on Urban Revitalization Holds First Public Hearing in Green Bay

Madison—The Assembly Committee on Urban Revitalization will be hosting a number of public hearings throughout the state as a part of its bipartisan efforts to gain insight from individuals invested in our urban communities. The committee's first hearing will be held in Green Bay at the Brown County Central Library. Invited speakers and members of the public are encouraged to provide testimony at the hearing.

"I am excited that Green Bay will be the committee's first stop on its tour around the state. I look forward to hearing from community leaders and members of the public to learn more on how we can continue improving our urban areas in our community and throughout the state," said Rep. Steffen.
